

DTG HONORED AS RECIPIENT OF 2012 EMC VELOCITY SERVICES QUALITY AWARD

Perinton, NY— August 13, 2013 — Distributed Technology Group today announced it has received the 2012 EMC® Velocity™ Services Quality Award from EMC Corporation for achieving outstanding service excellence and customer satisfaction as measured by the EMC Velocity Services Quality (VSQ) program.

The EMC VSQ program is a project-specific survey program designed for partners with Velocity Services designations to solicit customer feedback regarding the quality of the partner's service engagements.

“This year's EMC quality award is a validation from the most critical constituents, our customers, that DTG's execution and knowledge of EMC solutions is exceptional. It demonstrates and proves to the marketplace that our team understands the real-world application of EMC technology in customer environments,” said Mark Matheson, President of DTG. “We have a dedicated group of deeply certified engineers that are EMC experts. Our company vision is to focus on a few key innovators like EMC, and we take great pride in our ability to share our extensive knowledge of these core technologies with our customers.”

“EMC's Total Customer Experience hinges on superior customer satisfaction and quality and is a cornerstone of EMC's success. I'm delighted to see an increasing number of Velocity Solution Provider partners from around the world who continue to drive and deliver outstanding levels of customer service to their customers. The latest survey results demonstrate that these partners have embraced and honed their EMC services skills set to maintain increasingly high levels of customer satisfaction,” said Jeff Schmitt, Americas Theatre Lead, Global Services Partners, EMC Corporation. “As an EMC Velocity Services Quality Award winner, DTG demonstrates leadership in service delivery quality and exemplifies the high standards to which EMC holds its own Global Services organization.”

The EMC Velocity Services program enables a select community of trained and certified EMC authorized partners to deliver a comprehensive portfolio of services ranging from technology implementation to technical support. These partners provide value-added services to address the most crucial aspects of a customer's information technology infrastructure.
