Distributed Technology Group (DTG) RECOGNIZED IN CRN NEXT-GEN 250 LIST
Annual List Features Trailblazing Solution Providers Transforming Business with Emerging Technologies

Perinton, NY August 19, 2015 – Distributed Technology Group (DTG) announced today it has been recognized in The Channel Company's exclusive 2015 CRN® Next-Gen 250 list. The annual list honors forward-thinking technology solution providers who have transformed their business by breaking into emerging technologies such as cloud computing, unified communications, virtualization, mobility, business analytics and business intelligence. These solution providers, each in business for less than 20 years, have adapted to an evolving marketplace with precision, clearly identifying themselves as the leaders of the future.

“DTG is honored and humbled to be included on the CRN NEXT-GEN 250 LIST. Since inception, DTG has focused on helping customers capitalize on the value that emerging technologies can provide to their complex computing environments. This recognition by CRN is a validation of our customer-centric approach to solving the IT challenges we encounter on a daily basis.” Said Mark Matheson, President of DTG.

“As emerging technologies come to market, so do the new delivery models needed to support them. Agile integrators are in demand now more than ever to architect new technology solutions to meet customer needs,” said Robert Faletra, CEO of The Channel Company. “The trailblazing solution providers honored in this year’s CRN Next-Gen 250 list continue to innovate and evolve to meet market demands and have clearly established themselves as the next generation of leadership in the IT channel. We congratulate the honorees named to this exclusive list for their achievements and look forward to following them in the future to see what they have in store.”

A sampling of the Next-Gen 250 list will be featured in the August issue of CRN and online at both www.crn.com and through the CRN Tech News App for iPad and Windows 8.
